“ One year ago today. Not the type of anniversary I care to remember or even care to acknowledge. We miss you so much. Tears still flow. We do laugh a little more often. You gave the 4 of us such an amazing life. We will always be grateful that you were our life. Being your wife was easy---it just worked for us. I still sit in our pew at church. That's a constant that I am not able to change yet. This month seems like yesterday, but this last year seems like an eternity. I still want to call or text you when you're suppose to be at work. We get our strength to keep going when we think and talk about you. We know that you expect nothing less of us. You will never leave our hearts. We love you forever. Thank you for our memories.

“ John although it has been a year it does seem like yesterday. I remember ice skating on Suermans pond. climbing trees, picking berries. The time we were playing in the field and forgot the barbed wire was there and you tore up your knee and I went screaming in the house. All of you guys save a place for me and it will continue as if it never stopped.

“ MERRY CHRISTMAS. We made it through church last night. You were there as well. Your tree has been lit 24/7. There is no normal Christmas this year, no matter what we do. We love you, miss you and think of you every day still.

“ It's time to think of Christmas. This one is going to be almost unbearable. I want to just sleep until January. We all knew in our minds last year would be our last Christmas on earth with you, but didn't want our hearts to believe it. No matter what I am going to midnight service-we didn't make it through last year. This year we'll make it through as you will be watching over us. I still ache and there are times I have to fight the tears. I still stop and think I need to call you. They say a true love story never ends. There will never be another you. Twenty years went too quickly, we still had memories to make. I still love you and ache for you, and always will.

“ When tomorrow starts

without me

and I'm not there to see

If the sun should rise

and find your eyes

all filled with tears for me

I wish so much you wouldn't cry

the way you did today

while thinking of the many things

we didn't get to say

I know how much you love me

as much as I love you and each time that you think of me

I know you'll miss me too

But when tomorrow starts

without me

Please try to understand *that an angel came and called my name

and took me by the hand and said my place was ready in heaven far above and that I'd have to leave behind all those I dearly loved.*

Let's start off with how much I miss you. I still cry almost everyday, and its already been seven months since God decided to be a meanie and take you from us. You're memory still lives on, and you'll always have a place in my heart no matter what. I miss going fishing with my best friend. We always had TONS of fun, and many good laughs.

So much has changed since you've been gone, but I think it's all for the best. You're probably asking me "Erin, what the hell are you thinking"??

But just know that I'm FINALLY happy.

Everyday I miss your smiling face. our talks, laughs, and you helping with me with these stupid computer problems everyday.

You're everything I wanted, plus more.

Keep watching over us, and most of all- keep laughing and smiling. Hope you're enjoying your time up there and I'll see you again one day!

I love you so much. There's not a day that goes by I don't think of you.

“ I still ache down to my bones. Your 60th birthday came and you were suppose to be here to celebrate Susie's 60th as well. I think of you every day, as do many that are here knowing that you're looking over us. I still want to tell you so much each day..I have to stop myself from texting you. I recently dreamed that I was telling you about my new journey, you were smiling and standing above me. I really feel in my heart you played a part in it....you know who I am talking about. I will always love you and find comfort in sharing memories of you with him. Missing you forever. Hon

“ May god bless you all and be by your sides through this most trying of times. John you were a great person and always fun to work with. You made going to the mill everyday more enjoyable knowing that you were there to help with any of my problems personal or work. And I will never forget you for that. May god have that golden gradall in the sky ready to go and have fun with it you will be sorely missed. God bless.
