“ A loved one is a treasure of the heart and to lose a loved one is like losing a piece of yourself. But the love that this person brought you...did not leave for the essence of the soul lingers. It cannot escape your heart for it has been there forever. Cling to the memories and let them find their way to heal you. The love and laughter the joy in the togetherness you shared...will make you strong. Youll come to realize that your time together no matter how long was meant to be and that you were blessed to have such a precious gift of love in your life. Brenda Keep your heart beating with the loving memories and trust in your faith to guide you through. Know that though life moves on...the beauty of love stays behind to surround and embrace you. Your loved one has left you that...to hold in your heart forever. Ilove you no matter what be strong.

“ Eventhough we have never met we know your heartache. The worst feeling imaginable. We do know your son is in a better place. The ache you feel will never get better you will just learn to deal with every day. And know that if you ever need to talk eventhough we have never met you may get ahold of us at any time. Truely sorry for your loss.

“ I met Jon via Playstation 3 playing our favorite games (Madden and Call of Duty). He had such a positive energy about him that I will never forget. We spoke everyday on the phone about working outdiets and of course when I would be home to play online :0). Even though I never met Jon face to face our conversations showed me what a great person he was. Jon was taken away to soon but God has other plans for him. I will never forget him.
