“ This has been a real shock to me. I really liked Mike and really liked working with him. He was always extremely pleasant to work with and a really nice guy. I occasionally look back at the times we would have conversations together that mainly consisted of us saying dude back and forth. It always brings a smile on my face and I'll keep those memories with me forever. I had a toast to him last night with some other database friends and I'm sure we'll do it as well at the various conferences we attend this year. He always did a great job teaching people by incorporating humor and simple concepts (e.g. hitchhikers guide to replication) to explain something complex. It was really great! Mike was one cool dude! I can't make the visitation and ceremony but all of you will be in my thoughts. Dan Luksetich

“ I have known Mike in a professional capacity since 1999. He was smart and passionate about his work. I always admired his cheerful nature and sense of humor. Mike could make databases dance on their hind legs. The world has lost not only a family man but also a genuine database Hero. “ My thoughts are with Mikes family at this difficult time. I am so sorry. The news was a shock and he will be missed! Mike was always good for a smile and a shared story over coffee. I will miss bumping into him in the office kitchen. He spoke with relish about dancing and his enjoyment of taking the cruise.
